The MARYLAND GAZETTE

[XXth Year.] THURSDAY, December 6, 1764. [No. 1022.

In our last GAZETTE, we gave our Readers the Copy of a Letter from Mr. HOOKE, a Member of the Council of Connecticut, to his Excellency Governor ELIOT, relative to his Conduct, as being instrumental in procuring some Letters to his Countryman in North-America: What follows, is a Piece published in the BOSTON GAZETTE of the 5th of November, directed to Messrs. EDES and GILL, Printers, by Way of Remark on, or Answer to, that Letter.

THE Public has been favoured with a printed Letter, containing a Letter, said to be written by Mr. Hooke, one of the Merchants of this Province, to his Correspondent in London, complaining of the Conduct of Mr. Secretary Oliver, in procuring the Stamp Act to be passed. This Letter, it is said, was sent to the Secretary, and by him communicated to the Governor, who, it is supposed, transmitted it to his Friend in London, that the Author might be punished for writing it. Whether the Letter was ever received, or whether the Author has been punished, we are not informed. But we are informed, that a Number of Copies of the Letter were printed off in London, and sent over to this Country. One Hundred Pounds Sterling is said to have been offered to defray the national Expence for America: But if we remember right, we read the Advertisement in Rivington's New-York Papers, and in the Gazette of what he calls a "false and scandalous Misrepresentation of our Conduct." We are sure we have seen it somewhere. And if the Publication of this Letter was for the purpose of exciting Odium against the Author, and bringing him into Contempt, we are sorry to say, that we have seen no Reason to think that the Publication has had the desired Effect. The Letter, we are informed, was received by the Ministry, or at least by some of them, before the Stamp Act was passed; and we have seen nothing to shew that the Ministry, or any of the Administration, do not still retain the same Opinion of the Administration of affairs, that they had before the Stamp Act was passed. We have seen nothing to shew that the Ministry, or any of the Administration, have changed their Opinion of the Administration of affairs, since the passing the Stamp Act. We have seen nothing to shew that the Ministry, or any of the Administration, have changed their Opinion of the Administration of affairs, since the passing the Stamp Act. We have seen nothing to shew that the Ministry, or any of the Administration, have changed their Opinion of the Administration of affairs, since the passing the Stamp Act.

We are informed, that in this Letter, that the Proposal of a Stamp Duty or some inland Tax in America, was owing to Mr. Oliver or Governor Hutchinson, or both of them. Could we suppose these conjectures, who are well known, would be of any Importance, we should say, that we have seen nothing to shew that the Proposal of a Stamp Duty or some inland Tax, was owing to Mr. Oliver or Governor Hutchinson, or both of them. We have seen nothing to shew that the Proposal of a Stamp Duty or some inland Tax, was owing to Mr. Oliver or Governor Hutchinson, or both of them.

We are informed, that in this Letter, that the Proposal of a Stamp Duty or some inland Tax in America, was owing to Mr. Oliver or Governor Hutchinson, or both of them. We

BOSTON, November 12.

We hear from Barnstable, that the Wife of a Man in that County was lately delivered of two Children; and before this Event, which occasioned doubtless give him much Pleasure, his Negro Wench, the same Night, was also delivered of a Child. He was likewise remarkably successful in the Generation of his domestic Animals, viz. his Cow had 2 Calves, his Mare a Colt, his Sow a considerable Number of Pigs, his Bitch a Number of Puppies, his Cat kitten'd, and one of his Hens hatch'd a Brood of Chickens;—all in one Night. [This good Man had a fertile yard.]

NEWPORT, November 8.

On Monday Night, the 29th ult. the Store of Messieurs John and James Mumford, in Thames-Street, was broke open, and sundry Sorts of valuable Goods to a considerable Amount, were stolen. The next Day, Search being made by a proper Officer, the Goods were found at the Lodgings of a Person who calls himself James Stanner; and, being strongly suspected to be the Villain, was apprehended, and carried before Martin Howard, Esq; but positively denied his committing the Fact, or having any Knowledge of the Goods, though found wrapped up in his Cloathing, and under his Bed. However, he was at length persuaded to confess himself Guilty, and that no other Person was concerned with him, and was thereupon committed to Goal. The Manner in which he effected this Piece of Villainy, was by cutting a Hole through the Door, and thereby was enabled to lift up the Bar which secured it. On interrogating him, he informed, that he commanded a Brig from Liverpool, which he left near Cape Fear, on the Coast of North-Carolina, on his Passage from Jamaica to Liverpool; that he travelled from Philadelphia to this Town by Land, and had resided here near a Month.

Nov. 12. On Friday, the 12th ult. arrived at Cape-Fear, from London, the Hon. Col. Tryan, lately appointed Lieutenant-Governor of North-Carolina.

NEW-YORK, November 22.

Sunday was committed to Goal (by Francis Filkin, Esq; Alderman of the South-Ward in this City) one William Jackson, charged before said Alderman with privately Stealing out of the Dwelling House of Martin Kreuder, of German Town, near Philadelphia, A Silver Watch, five French Crowns, a Guinea and Half, besides other Money and Effects, the Property of a German (or Dutch) Minister, who boarded in the said Kreuder's House.

On Monday Night last, an Officer arrived Express from the Army to the Northward, from whence we have received Advices, that Colonel Bradstreet had broke up his Camp at Sandusky, on the 18th of October, having first engaged many of the upper Nations, with whom Peace had been concluded, to declare against the Shawanese and Delawares, and to send Parties out to War against them. That about Seventy Miles from Sandusky, the Lake rose in the Night on a sudden, and the Surf beat with such Violence on the Shore, where the Army had landed, that betwixt Twenty and Thirty Boats were beat to Pieces, notwithstanding the Efforts made to save them: The Night was very dark, and little else than the small Quantity of Provisions that was in them could be saved. The Army proceeded to the Grand River, about 70 Miles farther, which they entered in a Storm: The tempestuous Weather hating the Appearance of continuing, and the Boats being deeply laden, by receiving the additional Men from the Boats which were lost, a Number of the best Marchers marched along the Lake Side, and the Indians took to the Woods.—The Men who marched, were for a Time relieved by other Men from the Boats; but Provisions being out, and a Snow-Storm upon the Lake, about Two Hundred Men pushed on for Fort Erie, in which they suffered greatly, and would have suffered more, had not the most advanced been relieved with Provisions and Boats, from Fort Erie, in Consequence of Colonel Bradstreet's Directions, sent by Express. The Remainder, except a few Missing, were taken up by the Boats on the 2d Instant, and the Army arrived at Niagara; from whence, the Regular Troops, and some Provincials, sailed in the Vessels on the 9th Instant; the Rest of the Army being left to follow in Boats under Lieut. Colonel Putnam. The Vessels arrived at Oswego on the 11th Instant, in a great Storm, in which the Snow Johnson was lost, going into the Oswego River; By this Accident, some Baggage and Arms were lost, but the Men are happily saved.

Nov. 26. The following Letter was wrote from the Commander of the Viper Sloop of War, to Archibald Kennedy, Esq; Commander of the Coventry, in this Port, dated, Viper Sloop, Cape Fear, October 24.

"As I have this Opportunity to write to my Lord Colvill by meeting Mr. Teague, who will take it in New-York, (but was I sure of Opportunity to convey it to Captain Montgomery I would not write) I shall give you a short Account of The 5th Instant at Noon, had a hard Gust of Wind, with heavy Rain; clewed up all the Sails, and handed all but the Mainsail, which blew to Pieces; the Wind shifted from South, E. to N. E. and N. W. and laid her Hatches in the Water, which made me heave over 4 of the Lee Guns, and was cutting away the Mizen-mast, but the Wind blew it away 14 feet above the Deck, first the Mizen Topsail Yard was on Deck, and the Topmast Brace. The Main mast was sprung in two Places; the Sloop not righting, nor veering, obliged us to cut away the Main mast; the then wore, and made good Weather.—I am sorry to acquaint you the Spreeve, Captain Blake, is lost, and all perished. Governor Wright's Lady and Daughter were on board.

I am, Sir, Yours, JACOB LORD."

PHILADELPHIA, November 29.

On Tuesday Night last, betwixt the Hours of Nine and Ten, the Counting-house of Mr. Humphrey Robinson, in Second-Street, was broke open, and robbed of between Fifty and Sixty Pounds in Cash.—And one Day last Week, about the Time of the Evening, a Shop in Front-street was robbed of some small Matters in China, which the Thief or Thieves carried a little Way in the same Street, till they came to a Dry-good Shop, where they left it, and carried off some Check Linen, and Handkerchiefs, in its Room.

The very unequal Distribution of Prize Money in the Royal Navy, we are informed, has for some Days past been under the Consideration of an honourable Board; and it is now said, that exclusive of a moderate monthly Augmentation of Seamens Wages, it has also been proposed, for the greater Encouragement of that useful Body of Men, the common Sailors, that full one Fourth of the Prize Money may be set apart for the use of the Forecastlemen, in all future Captures.

Sept. 22. Letters from Senegal mention, that Advice has been received there from Governor Debatt, of Gambia, that a French Frigate, of 36 Guns, double manned, with the Governor of Goree on board, was come into the River Gambia; that the French behaved with great Insolence, telling the English they were determined to force a Trade in that River; and that they had entirely prevented Governor Debatt from receiving fresh Provisions.

Sept. 25. A Person of a scheming Turn, has a Plan to lay before the Government, whereby he proposes a saving of 50,000l. Sterling annually, without any new Taxes.

On Monday last, a Couple that had been out-asked at Marybone Church, went thither to be married. As the Rev. Mr. Boo was reading the Ceremony, when he came to the Words, Will thou have this Man to be thy wedded Husband? The Woman answered, No. And upon the Minister's asking the Reason, she said, I have told him several Times I would not marry him. The Clergyman then asked her, Why he came to the Church? She replied, I came to tell You I will not marry him; and immediately went away with two Men who came to attend the Ceremony, leaving the Disappointed Bridegroom at Church. [Is the Lurch.]

Letters from Lisbon of the 29th ult. bring Advice, that his most Faithful Majesty has not only approved and confirmed all the military Regulations made by Count de Lippe, but has heaped also immense Riches and other extraordinary Favours on that Nobleman; which has occasioned some of the Portuguese Nobility to look on the Count with a jealous Eye.

We hear that some very extraordinary Dispatches were Yesterday received in regard to the Behaviour of the French at Newfoundland.

Sept. 27. The Postscript of a Letter from Warsaw, dated September 3, runs thus, "Some Advices already bring, that the Election of a King was actually made on the 7th, and that Count Stanislaus Poniatowski re-united all Voices in his Favour.

Two Couriers arrived at Berlin, on the 15th Inst. with the important News, that the Election of a King of Poland was happily accomplished on the 7th of this Month at Warsaw, in the Person of Count Poniatowski, Grand Duke of Lithuania; and that he had been proclaimed, under the Name of Stanislaus Augustus, King of Poland, and Grand Duke of Lithuania. This Election was carried on with an Unanimity unknown hitherto in the Annals of Poland.

October 2. They write from Berlin, that extraordinary military Preparations are making throughout the Prussian Dominions; but the Motive was not known.

It is said there have, for some Days past, been the greatest Appearance for a perfect Unity and coalition of Parties, that has been experienced for some Years.

We are informed, that an express was last Sunday Morning sent off from Plymouth to Newfoundland.

They write from Lisbon, that the Court of Madrid, no longer able to behold with a placid Eye the great naval and military Preparations of his most Faithful Majesty, and the perfect Unanimity at present subsisting between that Kingdom and Great-Britain, have at last begun to manifest their Jealousy in something more than Words, as undoubted Intelligence had been received, that for some Time past the Spaniards have been marching several Regiments from the interior Provinces, especially from those of Arragon and Castile, with Intent to form an Army of Observation on the Side of Portugal; and that large Quantities of heavy Artillery were daily arriving on the Frontiers.

BOSTON, November 12.

We hear from Barnstable, that the Wife of a Man in that County was lately delivered of two Children; and before this Event, which undoubtedly gave him much Pleasure, his Negro Woman, the same Night, was also delivered of a Child. He was likewise remarkably successful in the Generation of his domestic Animals, viz. his Cow had a Calves, his Mare a Colt, his Sow a considerable Number of Pigs, his Bitch a Number of Puppies, his Cat kittened, and one of his Hens hatched a Brood of Chickens — all in one Night. [This good Man had a fertile yard.]

NEWPORT, November 8.

On Monday Night, the 29th ult. the Store of Messieurs John and James Morion, in Thames-street, was broke open, and sundry Sorts of valuable Goods to a considerable Amount, were stolen. The next Day, Search being made by a proper Officer, the Goods were found at the Lodgings of a Person who calls himself James Stannard; and, being strongly suspected to be the Villain, was apprehended, and carried before Martin Howard, Esq; but positively denied his committing the Fact, or having any Knowledge of the Goods, though found wrapped up in his Cloathing, and under his Bed. However, he was at length perswaded to confess himself Guilty, and that no other Person was concerned with him, and was thereupon committed to Goal. The Manner in which he effected this Piece of Villainy, was by cutting a Hole through the Door, and thereby was enabled to lift up the Bar which secured it. On interrogating him, he informed, that he commanded a Brig from Liverpool, which he left near Cape-Fear, on the Coast of North-Carolina, on his Passage from Jamaica to Liverpool; that he travelled from Philadelphia to this Town by Land, and had resided here near a Month.

Nov. 12. On Friday, the 12th ult. arrived at Cape-Fear, from London, the Hon. Col. Tryan, lately appointed Lieutenant-Governor of North-Carolina.

NEW-YORK, November 22.

Sunday was committed to Goal (by Francis Filkin, Esq; Alderman of the South Ward in this City) one William Jackson, charged before said Alderman with privately Stealing out of the Dwelling House of Martin Kreuder, of German Town, near Philadelphia, A Silver Watch, five French Crowns, a Guinea and Half, besides other Money and Effects, the Property of a German (or Dutch) Minister, who boarded in the said Kreuder's House.

On Monday Night last, an Officer arrived Express from the Army to the Northward, from whence we have received Advices, that Colonel Bradstreet had broke up his Camp at Sandusky, on the 18th of October; having first engaged many of the upper Nations, with whom Peace had been concluded, to declare against the Shawanese and Delawares, and to send Parties out to War against them. That about Seventy Miles from Sandusky, the Lake rose in the Night on a sudden, and the Surf beat with such Violence on the Shore, where the Army had landed, that betwixt Twenty and Thirty Boats were beat to Pieces, notwithstanding the Efforts made to save them: The Night was very dark, and little else than the small Quantity of Provisions that was in them could be saved. The Army proceeded to the Grand River, about 70 Miles farther, which they entered in a Storm: The tempestuous Weather having the Appearance of continuing, and the Boats being deeply laden, by receiving the additional Men from the Boats which were lost, a Number of the best Marchers marched along the Lake Side, and the Indians took to the Woods.—The Men who marched, were for a Time relieved by other Men from the Boats; but Provisions being out, and a Snow-Storm upon the Lake, about Two Hundred Men pushed on for Fort Erie, in which they suffered greatly, and would have suffered more, had not the most advanced been relieved with Provisions and Boats, from Fort Erie, in Consequence of Colonel Bradstreet's Directions, sent by Express. The Remainder, except a few Missing, were taken up by the Boats on the 22d Instant, and the Army arrived at Niagara; from whence, the Regular Troops, and some Provincials, sailed in the Vessels on the 9th Instant; the Rest of the Army being left to follow in Boats under Lieut. Colonel Putnam. The Vessels arrived at Oswego on the 21th Instant, in a great Storm, in which the Snow Johnston was lost, going into the Oswego River; By this Accident, some Baggage and Arms were lost, but the Men are happily saved.

Nov. 26. The following Letter was wrote from the Commander of the Viper Sloop of War, to Archibald Kennedy, Esq; Commander of the Coventry, in this Port, dated, Viper Sloop, Cape Fear, October 24.

"As I have this Opportunity to write to my Lord Colvill, by meeting Mr. Tonge, who will take it to New-York, I have only to acquaint you, that we are safe arrived here, after a tedious Passage of 8 Weeks, which I dare say you will think long enough. I shall give you a short Account of the 5th Instant at Noon, had a hard Gale of Wind, with severe Rain; during all the Night, and handed all but the Mizen-sail, which blew to Pieces; the Wind shifted from S. E. to N. E. and N. W. and laid her Hatches in the Water, which made me heave over 4 of the Lee Guns, and was cutting away the Mizen-mast, but the Wind blew it away 14 feet above the Deck, the Mizen Top-sail Yard was on Deck, and the Topmast Rack. The Main-mast was sprung in two Places; the Sloop not righting, was obliged us to cut away the Main mast; she then wore, and made good Weather.—I am sorry to acquaint you the Spreuve, Captain Blake, is lost, and all perished. Governor Wright's Lady and Daughter were on board.

I am, Sir, Yours, JACOB LOBB."
